

Job Opportunity: Cooks and Deli Counter Staff at Stone Garden Farm Market

Are you passionate about creating delectable dishes and being part of a dynamic culinary team? Look no further! Stone Garden Farm Market, nestled in Shelton, is seeking enthusiastic individuals to join us as full and part-time Cooks and Deli Counter Assistants.

Position Overviews:

As a Cook at Stone Garden Farm Market, you'll be crucial in crafting a delightful culinary experience for our customers. From braising and grilling to sautéing, your culinary skills will shine as you prepare diverse dishes, including soups, salads, entrees, and sides.

Deli Counter Assistants must be 18 years or older, and experience is a plus but not necessary as we will train the right individual. Your friendly attitude and attention to detail will make customers feel welcome and valued while slicing and filling deli orders as well as crafting sandwiches and salads.

Our dedicated team takes pride in serving high-quality prepared foods, and your expertise will contribute to our commitment to excellence.

Responsibilities:

- Utilize your cooking techniques to create flavorful and visually appealing dishes.
- Collaborate with fellow team members to ensure timely preparation and presentation of menu items.
- Maintain a clean and organized workspace in accordance with food safety standards.
- Provide friendly and efficient service at the deli counter, assisting customers with their selections.
- Other responsibilities for deli counter assistants may include helping out in the kitchen, prepping or packaging food, etc.

Qualifications:

- Prior experience in various cooking methods, including braising, grilling, and sautéing.
- Availability for weekend shifts; night availability is not required.
- Professional demeanor with a positive attitude and excellent interpersonal skills.
- Efficient time management and adaptability in a fast-paced environment.

Perks:

- Join a fun and relaxed culinary environment where great food is at the heart of what we do.
- Competitive salary based on your culinary experience and skills.

If you're ready to bring your culinary expertise to Stone Garden Farm Market and contribute to a team that prides itself on serving exceptional food, we encourage you to apply. Embrace the opportunity to showcase your skills and grow in a supportive culinary setting. Apply today and become a valued member of our culinary family.